Terry,

Barb and I would like to thank your entire company for the work they did on making the exterior of our house like new again. The effort put forth from beginning to end was superb. It took us a while to make our final decisions on style, color and trim but the end result is fantastic, thanks to everyone at TCSP. You, Ann, Dave Brown, Brian and his crew, who did the tough work day in and day out, and anyone else who had a hand in helping things along, we appreciate your efforts. The hard work by Brian and his crew, who helped me with some on-sight decisions and kept things going smoothly even with the sun and heat bearing down on them day after day, was tremendous. They answered all my questions and put up with my constant observing of everything they did, but it made the final product just what we wanted and I thank them for their personal and professional effort. From the day we made the decision to go horizontal instead of vertical we had the question in our head – what would it look like and did we make the right decision? Well, it looks great, the decision was the right one and we will be enjoying it for many years to come. Thank you all again and when ever we have the chance we will certainly recommend TCSP and Brian and his crew as professional, conscientious, friendly and the best to work with.

Sincerely yours,

Gary and Barb Armstrong
